Project Highlights

2,083 SF FARMHOUSE

This house rose like a phoenix from the ashes of the Jesusita firestorm. The fire gave the owners a unique opportunity to reorient the house from a Feng Shui perspective and take full advantage of the surrounding landscapes and breathtaking vistas.

Building green on a budget was another goal. The family's efforts to salvage and recycle materials soften and warm the space with a historic feel. The new home is blessed down to its bones with poems and good wishes penned on the framing inside the walls.
